POLITICIANS MEET AT WEST ALEXANDER FAIR

Candidates Put Little Washington County Town on Map

EVERYONE CONFIDENT

Congressman Charles Matthews Among Crowd--Opponents Make Appearance

A Mecca for politicians, the West Alexander fair this week was a rendezvous for candidates as well as for the exhibition of big pumpkins, pieced bed quilts and horse racing. This is the place where the farmers of that part of the county congregate and it affords a splendid occasion to meet, shake hands and try to convince the electorate that the services of each particular candidate are essential, notwithstanding the vehement assertions throughout the country that one man--particularly T. R.--is not necessary for the political salvation of the country.

It was this gathering of yeomen that attracted all the county and district candidates practically to West Alexander yesterday. There were Republicans, Democrats, Progressives and Socialists, all active in behalf of their respective campaigns.

Henry W. Temple, Progressive; Charles Matthews of New Castle, Republican and Dr. S. A. Lacock, Democrat, of Canonsburg--all candidates for Congress in the 24th district--met many of the voters during the day. Mr. Matthews was accompanied by County Chairman C. E. Carothers, Recorder Sutherland, H. R. Myers, J. J. Hott of Charleroi and other Republican leaders of the county.

Candidates for Assembly on the Republican ticket, James W. Walker and R. M. Allen were also there. Other Assembly candidates on the ground were Theodore J. Allen of Charleroi on the Washington ticket and Joseph F. McFarland and John L. Post the Democratic nominees.

As a matter of fact all were confident and sanguine of victory at the election this fall. Confidence on the part of candidates, however, is a campaign asset, and is usually discounted to a considerable degree by the real political workers of the county. The Democrats, hoping that the division in the ranks of the Republican party by the Progressive movement, think they have a fighting chance to win, and are consequently more active than usual. The Progressives are also loud in their claims, basing their confidence largely on the showing made by the Keystone element in the last Gubernatorial campaign.

While the Republican leaders are not so outspoken in their claims as either the Democrats or Progressives they are becoming more confident as the campaign progresses. Sentiment they say, is rapidly drifting back to Taft from the disaffected of the party due largely to the prosperous times

MONONGAHELA ROAD TO BE OPENED SOON

Extention From Brownsville to be Used Within Next Sixty Days--Passenger Trade to be Instituted Next Spring

Although the railroad officials are chary about giving out any information, it is probable that the extension of the Monongahela railroad southward, as well as the Buckhannon & Northern will operate within the next 60 days. However, it is improbable that passenger service will be instituted until spring.

Classes are now at work in the manual training department of the Washington High school. The first work taken up was the shaping up of a small rough board, making it a certain thickness and width and smooth on front and sides. The work gave the pupils the use of the plane square and the gauge. Accuracy is required in all work. The work being done will go into a sort of a flower stand. The object of the instruction is not to make something, but to give the pupil the knowledge of the use of certain tools; but it makes the work more interesting if something is made. Each pupil has his own bench and tools. The period of work lasts 80 minutes.

All the rails on the Buckhannon & Northern have been laid. Those on the Monongahela are also placed with the exception of about 400 feet at Dunkard creek. The substructure of the Dunkard creek bridge has been completed for some time, but a portion of the steel superstructure was used in placing the main span of the river bridge near New Geneva. The bridge is inadequate. It cannot handle the delay in placing the south end of this bridge necessitated a delay in the erection of the Dunkard creek

s. The plate girders were used to support the trestle work which in turn supported the one end of the main span of the river bridge.

While practically all the track has been laid, it is not in condition for operation. All the track or a good portion of the track recently laid by the Buckhannon & Northern needs ballasting. This work will occupy considerable time, but it is said that every effort is being made to secure a large number of laborers so as to put the new road in service as soon as possible.

No announcement has been made yet as to whether or not the new roads will be operated under the supervision of the Monongahela railroad officials. It is understood that the present plans provide for the local officials to assume complete charge.

The hurried action of the Pennsylvania railroad in ordering the erection of the bridge at Brownsville junction as soon as possible, points to the early completion of the new roads up the river. The bridge is an important feature as the present one is inadequate. It cannot handle the present traffic, not to speak of the additional traffic which will be handled by the Pennsylvania in the future.

BERRY COMING FOR DEM RALLY

Former State Treasurer and State Chairman to Speak

Next Saturday

WEDDING HERE PRETTY EVENT

Pittsburg Young Woman Becomes the Bride of Greensburg Business Man

W. H. Berry a campaign speaker for the Woodrow Wilson national ticket and a candidate for treasurer on the State Democratic ticket, and Hon. George W. Guthrie, of Pittsburg will be the stellar constellations at a gathering of stars for the promulgation of Democratic doctrine in Charleroi Saturday night. Berry and Guthrie are both to make speeches, and there will probably be others present to assist.

Neither Berry nor Guthrie ever got to Charleroi in any campaign before. Berry almost got here when he campaigned against Gov. J. K. Tener for gubernatorial honors, but concluded the wisest thing he could do was to stay away. Guthrie is the Pittsburgher who made a fine record as mayor of Pittsburg. He is state chairman of the Democratic party and a man universally respected and admired.

LADY MACCABEES VISIT THE HEINZ PITTSBURG PLANT

A number of Lady Macabees of various parts of the Monongahela valley Thursday took a trip to Pittsburg, when they were conducted on a tour of inspection through the H. J. Heinz plant. The pickle manufacturer's plant was gone through and matters explained to the women. Many of the party took occasion to visit the Pittsburg exposition.

Sunday School Picnic Tomorrow. The Ebenezer Sunday school will hold its annual picnic tomorrow near the Philadelphia Gas company's office on the Lutes farm.

beautiful appointments characterized the wedding Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock of Miss Mary P. Kellogg, of Pittsburgh and Louis B. Nicewonger of Greensburg, which was solemnized at the home of Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Crow on McKean avenue. White formed the color scheme in the decorations lending a charming simplicity to the function. The bride was attired becomingly in a lovely gown of color harmonious to the color scheme. During the ceremony the couple stood in a small alcove banked with beautiful palms. Rev. C. P. Bastian, pastor of the Christ Lutheran church of Charleroi plighted the troth. The guest list was small, only a few of the most intimate friends of the couple witnessing the ceremony.

After the ceremony was performed a wedding supper was served by Dr. and Mrs. Crow in honor of the newlyweds, and a dainty wedding cake was sliced. For a few days Mr. and Mrs. Nicewonger will visit in Charleroi, and then will go to Greensburg where they will live.

The bride is a beautiful and accomplished young woman. She is a graduate nurse of the Allegheny General hospital at Pittsburg. Her husband who is a much respected and admired young business man is connected with the Jamison Coal company at Greensburg.

EXPERIMENTING WITH VARIETIES OF ROADS

Will Give Last Dance

State Investigating to Ascertain Best That Can be Had

TRYING VARIOUS KINDS

No Slip-Shod Methods to be Used--Inquiries Directed to Road Men of Other States

Experiments are under way by the State Highway Department in a dozen counties of the State to determine the best methods of road construction, so that when the Commonwealth begins its general road building under the $50,000,000 which it is expected will be voted by the people next year, Pennsylvania will not only obtain the best roads but those best suited to the locality in which they are to be built. This experimental work has been in progress for more than a year, and reports upon traffic and the manner in which the various roads are standing up are made every few days.

In selecting the locations for experimental purposes the department picked out typical rural manufacturing, automobile travel and suburban roads, and material was used which was believed to possess qualities when laid that would best resist the wear and tear peculiar to each. In some of the farming communities road compositions have been used which will enable good time to be made by ordinary narrow-tired market wagons and at the same time be easier on the horses' hoofs than the harder roads laid down in industrial sections where teaming is heavy. For roads much frequented by automobiles the State has been trying construction of a character which would resist the suction due to large rubber tires. In suburban communities the aim has been to promote easy communication from farming districts and for store deliveries.

On all experiments careful attention has been paid to the extent and cost of repairs and efforts made to find a method to reduce dust to a minimum. The end of the year will see the State supplied with the most complete data possible on the subject. Many farmers, team owners and automobile drivers have assisted in the work by sending notes on their observations of the roads to the State Highway Department. Members of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation who are working for the adoption of the constitutional amendment authorizing $50,000,000 bond issues have been lending aid so that the State may secure the very best results for its money.

The general interest in road construction is growing every week throughout the countryside and it is believed among the strongest supporters in the way of better means to reach market towns or electric lines carrying produce that will follow in the train of a general system of first class state highways.

PLANT TREES.

He who plants and nurtures a tree adds to the happiness and well-being of posterity. This well known and philanthropic action has for the most part been voluntary and was carried out from an individual point of view in the past, although in the European countries the necessity of planting and caring for trees has for a long time been deemed a public question and is made compulsory under certain conditions. In Prussia, for instance, no one is permitted to cut down a tree without replanting one in its place. If a property owner fails to comply with the regulation the government will do it for him, and collect besides the expense an additional fine. The result of this policy is that Prussia today has a greater timber supply than it had fifty years ago.

In order to instill a proper appreciation of the forests and the necessity of their conservation, Dr. N. C.
Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has designated October 25 as Autumn Arbor Day. In the observance of this day we request the teachers of the public schools and citizens generally to use that day for planting trees and carrying out such exercises as will give consideration to the preservation of the forests. At the present time the chestnut blight is devastating the State forests, and unless its ravages are stayed this beautiful and useful tree will become extinct. Arbor Day can be devoted to creating a sense-ment for more State aid in conserving the forests as well as to planting trees. Subjected to the same conditions for the same length of time as some of the European and Asiatic countries Washington country which is particularly susceptible to rapid erosive forces would also become an arid desert. The question of forestry is a vital issue.

EFFECT OF GOOD TIMES

The New York Evening Post says that in all the talk about returning prosperity in the Western States especially, not so much attention as one might have expected has yet been devoted to its probable political results. The question is certainly not the less interesting, in that the most enthusiastic assurances of trade revival come from States such as Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and the Dakotas, which were rather generally conceded, earlier in the campaign, as marking the Third Party's strategic positions and which are precisely the states that now appear to be receiving the earliest and largest measure of the new prosperity. That the Third Party's prospects in that part of the country will be impaired by this business revival would seem in the light of all political experience to be unquestionable. That party's campaign is avowedly bottomed on agitation and discontent, and an appeal of this sort inevitably loses a great part of its force with a community which has suddenly grown happy and prosperous.

On the principle that a contented electorate usually favors maintenance of existing political conditions, it might be assumed that Mr. Taft would get whatever popular support Mr. Roosevelt lose for such reasons.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Work is a good thing to stay away from.

It's awful to consider what Monessen would do if it wasn't pitched near Charleroi.

It takes some towns a long time getting over their desire for sensation in seeing people die.

It's getting altogether too peaceful.
Will somebody kindly tell us where Capt. Richmond Hobson is?

Before a man seriously starts writing poetry he ought to get himself in perfect physical condition. Then he should buy life insurance.

Preserves.

My wife in preserving surpasses,
She has put up nine kinds of "sasses;"
She takes sugar and spice,
Then puts in some rice
And gives it a dash of molasses.

Most of the popular fiction of the day has the scenes laid in New York.
It is so much easier to make people believe things about it than in any other city.

We have it in for a pretty boy whom we are going to recommend to the army so he will get a glittering uniform and then be spoiled by attentions. It will be sweet revenge.

Things have certainly come to a bad pass when even his intensely mechanical, unsympathetic, unfeeling typewriter won't recognize him on his return from his vacation.

The Philadelphia Star has the following in the way of ideas:

Of a mollycoddle—Man who wears

Of an unexpected event—Having a cousin pay 50 cents he owes you.

Of a catastrophe—Breaking of suspenders in the middle of a two-step.

Of a pest—Friend who tells you
how to improve your work.

Of a pleasant evening—Listening to a discussion between two music teachers.

Of a hero—Man who dares say he doesn't like his wife's new hat.

Of a friend in need—Man who lift—Attending a fashionable reception and standing in a corner for

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"I noticed many changes for the better in England since my last visit there several years ago," said William Gelder of Crest avenue, who returned Saturday from a visit to the land of his birth, after an absence of nearly 16 weeks. "What impressed me more than everything else, is the public provisions made for the comfort and well-being of the people. In all the cities and towns of any size now are large parks, with equipment for the recreation of the people, with municipal bands to furnish popular concerts and music.

This seems to be so universally appreciated that it has cut down drinking and drunkenness to an astonishing degree. In my entire 16 weeks' absence I did not see one solitary drunken individual. In my native town and other places I was familiar with a number of the old established saloons or public houses have gone out of existence.

The moving picture shows there are also a great factor in amusing and entertaining the people. They are not so cheap as in this country, the admission prices averaging about on the same basis as 10 and 25 cents. The exhibitions are invariably of a high class and are instructive as well as entertaining. The old age pension law, which is now in effect in England, is also a factor in up-lifting and advancing the public welfare.

"In London they have foot walks in the subways, underground, where pedestrians avoid the danger of being run down by motors and other vehicles which congest the most of the principal streets of that city. I did not see much evidence of lack of employment except in London. There I saw a large number of homeless men, women and children sleeping in the public parks, on the benches and on the ground, which is permitted by the authorities. Altogether I had a most enjoyable and instructive trip."

George W. Might, who has also just returned from a trip abroad which included continental Europe as well as England, gives some interesting accounts of impressions.

"What impressed me most," said Mr. Might, "is that every one seems to live for music. There are bands and orchestras everywhere, both public and private, and all the large hotels have music. All the cities and towns have municipal bands, and there is music every night on the public squares and parks. Another thing that impressed me is the large number of recreation parks in the large cities for the people. It looks as though they had at some time cut big sections right out of the heart of the business part of the city to make a park for the people."

"In northern Italy the cities there look more like our American cities than in any other country we visited.
The middle classes there dress about the same as Americans and the police work about the same as ours. In fact if it weren't for the language you'd imagine you were in a strange American city."

"One thing, however, I couldn't get used to, and that was the great preponderance of soldiers everywhere.
No matter where we went it was soldiers. You met them in uniform individually on the streets, or you saw them go marching by in squads or battalions. Everywhere and at all times of the day you could hear the sound of bugle calls or the tap of drums. The whole of Europe seems to be as an armed military camp."

Praise This Remedy For Consumption

If the voluntarily written words of grateful people living in all parts of the country praising Eukanal after the use of the medicine for constant colds, throat and lung troubles are to be believed, this medicine is certainly doing a vast amount of good for such sufferers. We state none but facts, and give to you the names and words of praise of those who have used it and whom the many cases coupled with the writers' statements that it restored them to health. This is a sample taken from many:

St. Mary's Academy, O'Neill, Nebraska.

I was attacked with the dread disease.

Tuberculosis. I coughed uncontrollably, could not sleep nor eat, even could not speak out loud and could do no work. I had three hemorrhages raised blood most of the time and suffered of night sweats, fever and chills. A specialist of Columbus, Ohio, pronounced my case hopeless.

Nearly five years ago I heard of your medicine and procured some at once.

With the result that I soon found my condition greatly improved. For the last four years I have been able to continue my teaching and though I have always had heavy school work, I am also able to perform much manual labor. I consider your medicine, if faithfully taken, a most excellent remedy. I can only thank you for your prompt and efficient service.

RABIES EPIDEMIC SCARES PEOPLE AT BENTLEYVILLE

Efforts are Taken to Prevent Spread of Disease--Dogs to be Killed

BURGESS ISSUES EDICT

Fearing an epidemic of rabies among the 240 unlicensed dogs of Bentleyville, Burgess W. M. Johnson of that place Wednesday evening issued a proclamation condemning to instant death all unmuzzled canines running at large. Already two persons have been bitten by dogs known to be suffering from rabies and considerable fear is felt all over the borough.

On Monday Frank Galaway, railroad-section boss there was bitten by his own dog. The animal was killed and its head taken to Pittsburgh where the experts declared it had been suffering from rabies. Mr. Galloway is now taking the Pasteur treatment. Word was received from Pittsburgh that an examination of the dog of Dr. W. M. Bigger, killed this week, showed that animal had also been a victim of rabies. William, the two-year-old son of Dr. Bigger, was playing with the dog on the day on which it was killed and the little chap will be taken to the city to receive the Pasteur treatment.

It is feared that other dogs about the town may have been infected and Burgess Johnson has taken immediate steps for the protection of the community.

The burgess also directs the police to kill on sight any dog not muzzled running at large. He also promises that owners failing to obey the proclamation as issued will be punished to the full extent of the law.

in the county, and it is felt that by November the party will poll its old time majority. The fact that the past fusion movements have never been able to pull out a victory in the country is taken for granted that this year will prove no exception.

The Socialists are more active than usual, and expect to add to the following by a large percentage this fall. When it comes to activity in campaigning the Socialists have all the other parties skinned a mile. They are on the job day, night and Sundays. The matter of campaign funds does not cause any delay in their work. When they hold a meeting they pass the hat for current expenses to pay cars fare, perhaps for their speaker, and if they don't get enough there is always a speaker glad to volunteer his or her services for the good of the cause. That is why the Socialist party is doubling in numbers every year or so in this community.

ARBOR DAY SET FOR OCTOBER 25 IN THIS STATE

Superintendent Schaeffer Advises Teachers and Pupils of Observance

MENTIONS CHESTNUTS

Nathan C. Schaeffer, superintendent of Public Instruction has announced that October 23 has been set aside as autumn Arbor Day. In his announcement he requests teachers and pupils and citizens of Pennsylvania to use that day for the planting of trees and carrying on of such exercises as will give a proper appreciation of the forests. He specifies especially that attention should be paid to the chestnut tree and its preservation.

In his announcement Superintendent Schaeffer says:

"Forests were long regarded as an inexhaustable gift of bountiful God. Although they were associated with many a sentiment and fancy they were early recognized as a valuable form of property. It is as much man's duty to protect this property as any other, and all such efforts should result in pleasure as well as profit."

At the present time the state of Pennsylvania is engaged in a fight against an enemy of one of our noblest trees. The chestnut blight has gained headway in the United States and lately has made serious inroads upon the trees of Pennsylvania. At the last meeting of the legislature a considerable sum of money was ap-

"It is fitting then that this subject be given serious consideration by all our people."

Located in This Territory.

In Thursday's issue of the Mail it was stated that Russell Blythe was leaving Charleroi after a visit for Detroit, Mich., where he was engaged in work. This was a mistake. He has been given the territory along the valley as salesman for the Imperial Glass company by which concern he has been employed for some years.

TAFT RECORD SHOWS THINGS ACCOMPLISHED DURING FOUR YEARS

These are among the achievements of three years of Taft. No other administration within the same brief limit has accomplished so many substantial benefits to the people. Why make a change, involving widespread upheaval of business, when every physical and material condition is favorable?

The tariff has been revised. Within a year following passage of the Payne bill wages were increased more than $500,000,000. Industry is operating at high pressure, general business is prosperous and there is a scarcity of labor everywhere.

Two acts providing safety for railway employees and proper inspection of appliances have been passed.

The Federal Mining Bureau, for reducing the dangers to workmen, has been established.

A children's bureau, to minimize infant mortality and reduce child employment in factories, has been organized.

Pensions for Union veterans of the War of the Rebellion have been broadened and increased.

White slavery has been outlawed and checked.

Our trade with foreign nations has been enormously increased, particularly in iron and steel manufactures. Congress has made the contract between railroads and their employees more favorable to the latter.

Shippers by rail and patrons of express, telegraph and telephone companies are assured just rates by reason of additional authority conferred upon the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The eight-hour law on government work has been extended to include contract supplies.

Practice in the federal courts has been simplified in the interest of all litigants, which will relieve particularly the poor suitor.

Postal savings banks have been established to the great convenience of persons who formerly hoarded their surplus.

Provision has been made for the parcels post, which will begin operations January 1.

Force and Perseverance.
There are two ways of attaining an important end—force and perseverance. Force fails to the lot only of the privately few, but austere and sustained perseverance can be practiced by the most insignificant. Its silent power grows irresistible with time. —Mme. Swetchine.

JEWISH PEOPLE TO OBSERVE FAST DAY

With the first sign of impending darkness this evening, orthodox Jews throughout the world will commence an absolute fast which will not terminate until dusk tomorrow evening. For 24 hours neither food nor drink will be partaken of in any form. In this manner, Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most sacred of the holy days on the Jewish calendar, begins after sundown. This chant with the most inspiring in the Jewish services. The cantor is attired in a flowing white robe, and surrounded by the church elders carrying the scrolls or Torah. To the orthodox Jew it is a moment of serious deliberation over past deeds.

The fast will be observed by young and old alike. When a child reaches the age of 13, or the confirmation age, it is expected to keep the fast.

The services at the synagogues are conducted very much in the same

The decorations are all of spotless

CATTLE CROSSING OVER IRRIGATING CANAL

HOME and social life in Northern California is the most pleasant because there are more bright days than in Southern Italy, and there is every convenience for bringing people together.

FARMS in the Sacramento Valley produce many more times net profit to the acre than Eastern farms because the soil is the best, sun shines every day, and there is plenty of good water for irrigating, with proper drainage.

ORANGES, potatoes, alfalfa and all fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables mature earlier in Northern California than in any part of the world.

STOCK and POULTRY are easier to raise and produce more because the climate is healthful and green feed grows in abundance.

MARKETS are very near, with cheap railroad and river transportation, making financial success sure.

It interests us to write to you today and learn of people who are making big money there now.

Let us know what you wish most to be informed about and get an instructive reply.

Don't delay, every day now sees new settlers moving on this land, as it is ready for seed, and the best farms go first.

OSBORNE MAY TWIRL

Charleroi fans will have the opportunity most likely of seeing one of its idols perform on Saturday, when the last and the deciding game of the series with the Monongahela Liggetts will be played by the Charleroi Independents. Osborne is to pitch. During the season Osborne made an excellent record with Akron in the Central league, his efforts helping largely in holding that team well up during the entire season. It is probable that Freeze, a young chap who was considered good enough for a try-out by Philadelphia will catch the remainder of the team as it has performed all season will be intact.

Monongahela will strengthen for the occasion and will it is said have Hogg the marvelous twirler of Monessen to do the twirling. Charleroi won the first game from the Liggetts at Monongahela and were beaten here in the second battle.

David G. Jones does not want the loafers or the incompetents. The miners there are making big money and they are more economical and thrifty than any class that has been in this community. The company is doing everything it can for its employees to make them contented and no more loyal residents to a town have been found anywhere. The sports are enthusiastic and take no back seat and there is talk of starting a football team with the expectation of having a round with some of the crack teams in the western end of the state.

The men are in excellent condition for a real team and considering their size the steel works aggregation would fall before them like sieves in an oat field. These boys are husky and ready for battle if teams can be found who are willing to bump into the real, genuine thing.

The big machine shops are kept busy all the time and there is plenty of repair work with the new work on hand to keep all the men busy for several months.

LOCAL NOTES

All We Divide Up

It has been said that people who are asking for economic reforms want to divide all the wealth of the country, so that all will have a share, while the fact of the business is that all we common people can reach the other fellow by doing too much dividing. We propose to stop that dividing up, as far as the retail business will permit, and keep for ourselves the profits we are giving away.

POLITICIANS MEET AT WEST ALEXANDER FAIR

Candidates Put Little Washington County Town on Map

A Mecca for politicians, the West Alexander fair this week was a rendezvous for candidates as well as for the exhibition of big pumpkins, pieced bed quilts and horse racing. This is the place where the farmers of that part of the county congregate and it affords a splendid occasion to meet, shake hands and try to convince the electorate that the services of each particular candidate are essential, notwithstanding the vehement assertions throughout the country that one man—particularly T. R.—is not necessary for the political salvation of the country.

It was this gathering of yeomen that attracted all the county and district candidates practically to West Alexander yesterday. There were Republicans, Democrats, Progressives and Socialists, all active in behalf of their respective campaigns. Henry W. Temple, Progressive; Charles Matthews of New Castle, Republican and Dr. S. A. Lacock, Democrat, of Canonsburg—all candidates for Congress in the 24th district—met many of the voters during the day. Mr. Matthews was accompanied by County Chairman C. E. Carothers, Recorder Sutherland, H. R. Myers, J. J. Hott of Charleroi and other Republican leaders of the county.

Candidates for Assembly on the Republican ticket, James W. Walker and R. M. Allen were also there. Other Assembly candidates on the ground were Theodore J. Allen of Charleroi on the Washington ticket and Joseph F. McFarland and John L. Post the Democratic nominees. As a matter of fact all were confident and sanguine of victory at the election this fall. Confidence on the part of candidates, however, is a campaign asset, and is usually discounted to a considerable degree by the real political workers of the county. The Democrats, hoping that the division in the ranks of the Republican party by the Progressive movement, think they have a fighting chance to win, and are consequently more active than usual. The Progressives are also loud in their claims, basing their confidence largely on the showing made by the Keystone element in the last Gubernatorial campaign.

While the Republican leaders are not so outspoken in their claims as either the Democrats or Progressives they are becoming more confident as the campaign progresses. Sentiment they say, is rapidly drifting back to Taft from the disaffected of the party due largely to the prosperous times

Extention From Brownsville to be Used Within Next Sixty Days—Passenger Trade to be Instituted Next Spring

Although the railroad officials are chary about giving out any information, it is probable that the extension of the Monongahela railroad southward, as well as the Buckhannon & Northern will operate within the next six months. However, it is important to know that passenger service will be instituted until spring.

About 8:30 Wednesday morning the first train passed over the new Monongahela railroad bridge, which is located about a mile south of New Geneva. The completion of this structure was somewhat delayed by the "buckling" of one of the supports yet as to whether or not the new truss. It required some tedious work to place the south end of the main span in its proper position.

All the rails on the Buckhannon & Northern have been laid. Those on the Monongahela are also placed with the exception of about 400 feet at Dunkard creek. The substructure of the Dunkard creek bridge has been completed for some time, but a portion of the steel superstructure was used in placing the main span of the river bridge near New Geneva. The delay in placing the south end of this bridge necessitated a delay in the erection of the Dunkard creek

Experiments are under way by the State Highway Department in a dozen counties of the State to determine the best methods of road construction, so that when the Commonwealth begins its general road building under the $50,000,000 which it is expected will be voted by the people next year, Pennsylvania will not only obtain the best roads but those best suited to the locality in which they are to be built. This experimental work has been in progress for more than a year, and reports upon traffic and the manner in which the various roads are standing up are made every few days.

In selecting the locations for experimental purposes the department picked out typical rural manufacturing, automobile travel and suburban roads, and material was used which was believed to possess qualities when laid that would best resist the wear and tear peculiar to each. In some of the farming communities road compositions have been used which will enable good time to be made by ordinary narrow-tired market wagons and at the same time be easier on the horses' hoofs than the harder roads laid down in industrial sections where teaming is heavy. For roads much frequented by automobiles the State has been trying construction of a character which would resist the suction due to large rubber tires. In suburban communities the aim has been to promote easy communication from farming districts and for store deliveries.

On all experiments careful attention has been paid to the extent and cost of repairs and efforts made to find a method to reduce dust to a minimum. The end of the year will see the State supplied with the most complete data possible on the subject.

Many farmers, team owners and automobile drivers have assisted in the work by sending notes on their observations of the roads to the State Highway Department. Members of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation who are working for the adoption of the constitutional amendment authorizing $50,000,000 bond issues have been lending aid so that the State may secure the very best results for its money.

The general interest in road construction is growing every week throughout the countryside and it is believed among the strongest supporters in the way of better means to reach market towns or electric lines carrying produce that will follow in the train of a general system of first class state highways.

PLANT TREES.

He who plants and nurtures a tree
adds to the happiness and well-being of posterity. This well known and philanthropic action has for the most part been voluntary and was carried out from an individual point of view
in the past, although in the European countries the necessity of planting and caring for trees has for a long time been deemed a public question and is made compulsory under certain conditions. In Prussia, for instance, no one is permitted to cut down a tree without replanting one
in its place. If a property owner fails to comply with the regulation,
the government will do it for him, and
collect besides the expense an additional fine. The result of this policy is that Prussia today has a greater timber supply than it had fifty years ago.

We have it for a pretty boy whom we are going to recommend to the army so he will get a glittering uniform and then be spoiled by attentions. It will be sweet revenge.

Things have certainly come to a
bad pass when even his intensely
mechanical, unsympathetic, unfeeling
his return from his vacation.

The Philadelphia Star has the following in the way of ideas:

Of a mollycoddle—Man who wears
bed slippers.

Of an unexpected event—Having a cousin pay 50 cents he owes you.

Of a catastrophe—Breaking of sus-
penders in the middle of a two-step.

Of a pest—Friend who tells you
how to improve your work.

Of a pleasant evening—Listening
to a discussion between two music teachers.

Of a hero—Man who dares say he doesn't like his wife's new hat.

Of a friend in need—Man who

Of a wise precaution—Taking a ham sandwich to a political banquet.

Of unalloyed bliss and mental uplift—Attending a fashionable reception and standing in a corner for

cup and saucer.

"I noticed many changes for the better in England since my last visit
there several years ago," said William Gelder of Crest avenue, who returned Saturday from a visit to the land of his birth, after an absence
of nearly 16 weeks. "What impressed
me more than everything else,
is the public provisions made for the comfort and well-being of the people.
In all the cities and towns of
any size now are large parks, with
equipment for the recreation of the people, with municipal bands to furnish popular concerts and music.
This seems to be so universally appreciated that it has cut down drinking and drunkenness to an astonishing degree. In my entire 16 weeks absence I did not see one solitary
drunken individual. In my native town and other places I was familiar with a number of the old established saloons or public houses have gone
out of existence."

The moving picture shows there are also great factors in amusing and entertaining the people. They are not so cheap as in this country,

the admission prices averaging
about on the same basis as 10 and cents. The exhibitions are probably
of a high class and are instructive
as well as entertaining. The old age pension law, which is now in effect
in England, is also a factor in up-lifting and advancing the public welfare.

"In London they have foot walks
in the subways, underground, where pedestrians avoid the danger of being
run down by motors and other
vehicles which congest the most of the principal streets of that city. I did not see much evidence of lack of employment except in London. There I saw a large number of homeless
men, women and children sleeping in the public parks, on the benches and
on the ground, which is permitted by the authorities. Altogether I had a most enjoyable and instructive trip."

George W. Might, who has also
just returned from a trip abroad
which included continental Europe
as well as England, gives some interesting scenes of interest.

"What impressed me most," said Mr. Might, "is that every one seems to live for music. There are bands and orchestras everywhere, both public and private, and all the large hotels have music. All the cities and towns have municipal bands, and there is music every night on the public squares and parks. Another thing that impressed me is the large number of recreation parks in the large cities for the people. It looks as though they had at some time cut
big sections right out of the heart of the business part of the city to make a park for the people.

"In northern Italy the cities there
look more like our American cities
than in any other country we visited.
The middle classes there dress about
the same as Americans and the police
work about the same as ours. In fact if it weren't for the language you'd imagine you were in a strange American city."

"One thing, however, I couldn't get used to, and that was the great preponderance of soldiers everywhere.
No matter where we went it was soldiers. You met them in uniform individually on the streets, or you saw them go marching by in squads or battalions. Everywhere and at all times of the day you could hear the sound of bugle calls or the tap of drums. The whole of Europe seems to be as an armed military camp."

Before a man seriously starts writing poetry he ought to get himself in perfect physical condition. Then he should buy life insurance.

Preserves.

My wife in preserving surpasses.
She has put up nine kinds of "sasses;"
She takes sugar and spice,

Then puts in some rice

And gives it a dash of molasses.

Most of the popular fiction of the day has the scenes laid in New York.
It is so much easier to make people believe things about it than in any other city.

We have it for a pretty boy
whom we are going to recommend to the army so he will get a glittering
uniform and then be spoiled by attentions. It will be sweet revenge.

Things have certainly come to a
bad pass when even his intensely
mechanical, unsympathetic, unfeeling
his return from his vacation.

The Philadelphia Star has the following in the way of ideas:

Of a mollycoddle—Man who wears
bed slippers.

Of an unexpected event—Having a cousin pay 50 cents he owes you.

Of a catastrophe—Breaking of sus-
penders in the middle of a two-step.

Of a pest—Friend who tells you
how to improve your work.

Of a pleasant evening—Listening
to a discussion between two music teachers.

Of a hero—Man who dares say he doesn't like his wife's new hat.

Of a friend in need—Man who wants to borrow your dress suit.

Of a wise precaution—Taking a
ham sandwich to a political banquet.

Of unalloyed bliss and mental uplift—Attending a fashionable reception and standing in a corner for an hour and a half holding a fragile cup and saucer.

"I noticed many changes for the better in England since my last visit
there several years ago," said William Gelder of Crest avenue, who returned Saturday from a visit to the land of his birth, after an absence
of nearly 16 weeks. "What impressed
me more than everything else,
is the public provisions made for the comfort and well-being of the people.
In all the cities and towns of
any size now are large parks, with
equipment for the recreation of the people, with municipal bands to furnish popular concerts and music.
This seems to be so universally appreciated that it has cut down drinking and drunkenness to an astonishing degree. In my entire 16 weeks absence I did not see one solitary
drunken individual. In my native town and other places I was familiar with a number of the old established saloons or public houses have gone
out of existence."

The moving picture shows there

ing and entertaining the people. They

RABIES EPIDEMIC SCARES PEOPLE AT BENTLEYVILLE

Efforts are Taken to Prevent Spread of Disease—Dogs to be Killed

earing an epidemic of rabies among the 240 unlicensed dogs of Bentleyville, Burgess W. M. Johnson of that place Wednesday evening issued a proclamation condemning to instant death all unmuzzled canines running at large. Already two persons have been bitten by dogs known to be suffering from rabies and considerable fear is felt all over the borough.

On Monday Frank Galaway, railroad section boss there was bitten by his own dog. The animal was killed and its head taken to Pittsburgh where the experts declared it had been suffering from rabies. Mr. Galloway is now taking the Pasteur treatment. Word was received from Pittsburgh that an examination of the dog of Dr. W. M. Bigger, killed this week, showed that animal had also been a victim of rabies. William, the two-year-old son of Dr. Bigger, was playing with the dog on the day on which it was killed and the little chap will be taken to the city to receive the Pasteur treatment.

It is feared that other dogs about the town may have been infected and Burgess Johnson has taken immediate steps for the protection of the community.

The burgess also directs the police to kill on sight any dog not muzzled running at large. He also promises that owners failing to obey the proclamation as issued will be punished to the full extent of the law.

in the county, and it is felt that by November the party will poll its old time majority. The fact that the past fusion movements have never been able to pull out a victory in the country is taken for granted that this year will prove no exception.

The Socialists are more active than usual, and expect to add to the following by a large percentage this fall. When it comes to activity in campaigning the Socialists have all the other parties skinned a mile. They are on the job day, night and Sundays. The matter of campaign funds does not cause any delay in their work. When they hold a meeting they pass the hat for current expenses to pay fare, perhaps for their speaker, and if they don't get enough there is always a speaker glad to volunteer his or her services for the good of the cause. That is why the Socialist party is doubling in numbers every year or so in this community.

With the first sign of impending darkness this evening, orthodox Jews throughout the world will commence an absolute feast which will not terminate until dusk tomorrow evening. For 24 hours neither food nor drink will be partaken of in any form. In this manner, Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most sacred of the holy days on the Jewish calendar, will be observed.

CATTLE CROSSING OVER IRRIGATING CANAL

HOME and social life in Northern California is the most pleasant because there are more bright days than in Southern Italy, and there is every convenience for bringing people together.

FARMS in the Sacramento Valley produce many more times net profit to the acre than Eastern farms because the soil is the best, sun shines every day, and there is plenty of good water for irrigating, with proper drainage.

ORANGES, potatoes, alfalfa and all fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables mature earlier in Northern California than in any part of the world.

STOCK and POULTRY are easier to raise and produce more because the climate is healthful and green feed grows in abundance.

MARKESTS are very near, with cheap railroad and river transportation, making financial success sure.

If interested, we urge you to write us today and learn of people who are making big money there now.

Let us know what you wish most to be informed about and get an instructive reply.

Don't delay, every day now sees new settlers moving on this land, as it is ready for seed, and the best farms go first.

Deciding Contest

OSBORNE MAY TWIRL

Charleroi fans will have the opportunity most likely of seeing one of its idols perform on Saturday, when the last and the deciding game of the series with the Monongahela Liggetts will be played by the Charleroi Independents. Osborne is to pitch. During the season Osborne made an excellent record with Akron in the Central league, his efforts helping Charleroi to hold that team well during the entire season. It is probable that Freese, a young chap who was considered good enough for a try-out by Philadelphia, will catch. The remainder of the team as it has performed all season will be intact. Monongahela will strengthen for the occasion and will it is stated have Hogg the marvelous twirler of Monessen to do the twirling. Charleroi won the first game from the Liggetts at Monongahela and were beaten here in the second battle.

David G. Jones does not want the loafers or the incompetents. The miners there are making big money and they are more economical and thrifty than any class that has been in this community. The company is doing everything it can for its employees to make them contented and no more loyal residents to a town have been found anywhere. The sports are enthusiastic and take no back seat and there is talk of starting a football team with the expectation of having a round with some of the crack teams in the western end of the state.

The men are in excellent condition for a real team and considering their size the steel works aggregation would fall before them like sheaves in an oat field. These boys are husky and ready for battle if teams can be found who are willing to bump into the real, genuine thing.

The big machine shops are kept busy all the time and there is plenty of repair work with the new work on hand to keep all the men busy for several months.

All We Divide Up

It has been said that people who are asking for economic reforms want to divide all the wealth of the country, so that all will have a share, while the fact of the business is that all we common people can reach the other fellow by doing too much dividing. We propose to stop that dividing up, as far as the retail business will permit, and keep for ourselves the profits we are giving away.
